FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VANCOUVER ACTRESS AND DANCER KAITLIN CHEUNG WINS 2011 YOUNG ARTIST AWARD

Vancouver October 6, 2011 –Vancouver actress and dancer Kaitlin Cheung recently won the Young Artist Award in the category of 'Best Performance' for her leading role in the short film “The Perfect Gift for Flora.” The nine-year-old edged out seven other young performers to claim this honor, and traveled with her family to Los Angeles to accept the award. Kaitlin is trained as a Ballet, Tap and Jazz dancer, and is a member of the competitive dance group at her dance school. She is currently working on her next project, an exciting and meaningful role as a dancer in the upcoming feature film, “Heart of Dance.” The film chronicles a high school senior's quest to fulfill her late younger sister's dream of becoming a professional dancer and her subsequent struggle with an eating disorder. It is intended to raise awareness of eating disorders and thirty-percent of the profits will be donated to the Looking Glass Foundation For Eating Disorders, a non-profit organization which is working to open Canada's first treatment centre for adolescents.

Kaitlin's other credits include an appearance on the hit television series “Fairly Legal,” a featured Extra in the movie “Diary of a Wimpy Kid” and the “I Believe” CTV Olympic commercial with actor Donald Sutherland, and several toy commercials for Fisher Price and Hasbro. Kaitlin has also appeared in several Print Ads including 'Teva Shoes' and the 'Manitoba Telephone Company'.

Kaitlin lives in Vancouver with her mom, dad, two brothers, puppy Mochi and pet bird Felix. She plays the piano and loves to sing, dance and perform. In her spare time, Kaitlin enjoys playing with friends, her dolls, drawing and reading. She hopes to be an actress, teacher, dancer and/or fashion designer when she grows up. Kaitlin is represented by Murray Gibson of Characters Talent Agency.
